

Kelly's Corner

We had a number of snow and ice events in February. As you know, the HHR streets are private and the HOA is responsible to contract and pay for snow plowing, salting and clearing of over 400 individual driveways and walkways. We spent much of our $85,000 snow budget in the past month. The harsh weather is also causing additional street deterioration. Please remember to report areas of concrete concerns to me. The cosmetic changes and updates to the clubhouse bathrooms are nearly complete. Later this spring we hope to begin the kitchen, hall and craft room renovations. This will be an exciting change and really benefit the social activities held at the clubhouse. Lastly, please remember that political yard signs are only permitted on a lot thirty (30) days before such election and be removed within two (2) days after the official election day. This shall include election flags, banners, stickers or any other election related paraphernalia. Political signs may not be displayed on common areas. -Kelly

RESIDENT SPOTLIGHT By: Joan Elliott

Hal and Carrie Wallach

With tongue in cheek, he introduces himself as George Clooney and his wife as Marilyn Monroe. They both laugh, making it abundantly clear that Hal and Carrie Wallach are enjoying their lives and their 40-year marriage to the fullest.

Raised in Air Force families, they began their relationship at a Mascoutah High School toga party where Hal claims to have "saved her" from an unruly classmate. They went away to colleges many miles apart but with $200 a month phone bills they decided it would be cheaper for Carrie to join Hal at University of Nebraska. She did and they married when they were 20.

The two have three children and two grandchildren, all part of a family group of 16 that gathers annually, both at Hilton Head and at Big Cedar Lodge near Branson. That family gathering was made ever more joyful in 2018 when Carrie learned that she had a brother, Russ, whom she and her sister never knew existed. Hal wrote a poem about the event that Russ' wife carved onto a wooden plaque.

Much of Carrie's life revolves around her Christian faith, her relationship with the Lord and involvement in Bible Study Fellowship, an international study. She's also worked at local churches. "It's all based on my love for Jesus," said Carrie.

Hal continues a full-time job with CBIZ, working with executives and boards of directors in determining compensation and benefits for employees. Whereas this job used to include travel, that evolved to video conferencing after Covid hit. "I'm a 'numbers guy,'" said Hal, "and have spent 32 years advising companies on ways to motivate and reward employees."

Fun and games fit nicely into the Wallach's lives. Their favorite trips include a Mediterranean cruise and time spent in Paris. At home they love Friday night games at HHR and time with friends. Hal loves golf; Carrie, jigsaw puzzles. And when it's just the two of them at home out come the Rummikub, Phase 10 or other games.

They agree that finding each other and rearing a family was their greatest accomplishment. "And stumbling onto HHR has been perfect," said Hal.

We are looking for volunteers to run the Putting-for-Fun League. This is a fun event for all residents of all skill levels and a great way to meet your fellow residents. The event takes place on the putting green with the holes being set up similar to miniature golf course. The holes are designed by a group of residents and all can take part in designing holes. This event takes place every other Monday and starts usually in late May and runs through mid-September. If you are interested, please contact one of the HHR Golf Committee Members.
